

A large crowd of people is gathered for a climate protest. In the foreground, many individuals are holding up large, white paper leaves on sticks. A prominent white banner with green text is held across the crowd. The banner features the phrase "la terra, nostra casa comune" in a cursive font above the bold, green words "CLIMATE ACTION NOW!". The background shows a large, multi-story building with many windows. The scene is bright and sunny, suggesting an outdoor daytime event.
